SECTION A: MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS (70 points)

PART 1. LISTENING

HƯỚNG DẪN PHẦN THI NGHE HIỂU

- Bài nghe gồm 3 phần, mỗi phần được nghe 2 lần, mỗi lần cách nhau 20 giây, mở đầu và kết thúc mỗi phần nghe có tín hiệu.
- Mở đầu và kết thúc bài nghe có tín hiệu nhạc. Thí sinh có 3 phút để hoàn chỉnh bài sau khi kết thúc phần nghe.
- Mọi hướng dẫn cho thí sinh (bằng tiếng Anh) đã có trong bài nghe.

TEST 1. For questions 1 – 5, you will hear two tourists Sally and Peter talking in a coffee shop and choose the best answer (A, B, C or D) for each question.

Question 1. Peter wants to drink _____.

- A. tea B. coffee C. a cold drink D. a hot drink

Question 2. Peter had problems at the bank because _____.

- A. the exchange rate was down B. he was late
C. his car had a flat tire D. the computers weren't working

Question 3. At the bank, Peter talked to _____.

- A. An American man B. An old friend C. A German man D. The bank manager

Question 4. Henry gave Peter the map of _____.

- A. the train system B. the bus routes
C. the city D. hotel system

Question 5. Peter and Sally decide to order _____.

- A. just food B. just drinks C. food and drinks D. snacks

TEST 2. You will hear a radio interview with a young student about learning a language. Listen to the recording and circle the best option (A, B, C or D) according to what you hear.

Question 6. Where did Anna first learn a language?

- A. at a language school B. with a private teacher at home
C. at primary school D. while traveling abroad

Question 7. According to Anna, how should learners study new words?

- A. learn a new word every day B. put the words into meaningful sentences
C. try to memorise as much as you can D. review them regularly with flashcards

Question 8. Why does Anna recommend using new words in conversations with friends?

- A. It helps learners remember vocabulary for a longer time.
B. It improves learners' pronunciation more effectively.
C. It allows them to check each other's grammar mistakes.
D. It encourages competition between language learners.

Question 9. What does Anna say about language learning?

- A. Many people go about it in the wrong way.
B. It doesn't require as much time as many would think.
C. It is too hard for some people.
D. It takes more patience than most people expect.

Question 10. Who can benefit from listening to songs in a foreign language?

- A. mostly pop music fans.
- B. only advanced learners.
- C. teenage learners.
- D. all kinds of learners

TEST 3. Listen to a recording about someone giving advice on how to ask their boss for a pay rise and choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) which fits best according to what you hear.

Question 11. The key factor when asking for a pay rise is _____.

- A. voicing your demands in a convincing way.
- B. making it clear you feel undervalued.
- C. proving you are an asset in the business.
- D. comparing yourself to the rest of the staff.

Question 12. If you have any failings, you should _____.

- A. check that no one knows about them.
- B. put them right gradually so that it is not too obvious.
- C. accentuate your strengths, such as punctuality.
- D. make sure your boss likes you as a person.

Question 13. When preparing what to say in your salary negotiation, _____.

- A. do not forget that you really need that extra money.
- B. make a list of all the points in your favor.
- C. focus on what you can do for the company in the future.
- D. put yourself in your superior's shoes.

Question 14. If your boss raises objections to your pay rise, you should _____.

- A. pre-empt them by raising them yourself and giving a counter argument
- B. make sure you can quote company rules to him or her
- C. appreciate that your boss is only doing his or her job
- D. accept any offer as it is better than nothing

Question 15. During salary negotiations, it is important to _____.

- A. mention that the company is very successful.
- B. ensure your boss is aware that you are taking these negotiations seriously.
- C. arrange to see your boss early in the day when he or she is fresh.
- D. try not to put your boss in an awkward position.

PART 2. LEXICO-GRAMMAR

Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 16 to 25.

Question 16: The new research findings are _____ than the earlier studies, offering a more nuanced understanding of cultural identity.

- A. far more conclusive
- B. as much conclusive
- C. much conclusively
- D. far more conclusively

Question 17: Peter must have played an indispensable role in the success of the research project, _____?

- A. mustn't he
- B. hasn't he
- C. isn't he
- D. wasn't he

Question 18: Jacob said that he was a passionate, _____ inexperienced, climber.

- A. consequently
- B. although
- C. albeit
- D. despite

Question 19: It is high time that senior students in high school _____ themselves thoroughly for the forthcoming university entrance examination.

- A. applied
- B. apply
- C. be applied
- D. applies

Question 20: Last year, when I last met her, she _____ a letter every day for the last two months.

- A. was writing
- B. had written
- C. wrote
- D. had been writing

Question 21: We haven't seen him in a while. I think he _____ on the night of the accident.

- A. must have arrested
- B. may be arrested
- C. should have been arrested
- D. might have been arrested

Question 22: He can speak French but _____ it in public, and almost never when on diplomatic duty.

- A. not once does he use
- B. rarely he uses
- C. seldom does he use
- D. scarcely does he uses

Question 23: John was late for a meeting with Jane. He's now apologizing to Jane for the incident.

John: "I'm so sorry I was late"

Jane: "_____"

- A. Don't sweat over it! B. Forget about it!
C. Little wonder you do! D. No offense intended

Question 24: The historian says that the decisive treaty _____ in 1945, marking the official conclusion of the conflict.

- A. was signed B. had been signed C. be signed D. signed

Question 25: After years of perseverance and unwavering determination, Maria secured her long-aspired position at a prestigious international organization. Her peers commended her, remarking that her accomplishment was truly _____.

- A. a shot in the dark B. a feather in her cap
C. a storm in a teacup D. a blessing in disguise

Read the following advertisement and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 26 to 31.

GREENPEACE – GIVING THE EARTH A VOICE

Who We Are

Greenpeace is an international, non-profit organization with offices in over 40 countries across Asia, Europe, the Americas, and the Pacific. Its headquarters is located in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. Every office adapts its agenda to the unique needs of its region, while global representatives meet each year to address (26) _____. We create change through peaceful, creative, non-violent actions to protect the environment and (27) _____.

Our Key Areas of Action

1. Nuclear & Chemical Safety

- Opposing nuclear weapons and tests.
- Fighting against toxic chemical pollution.

2. Genetically Engineered Foods

- Warning about (28) _____ biological risks.
- Publishing resources like the True Food Guide to help consumers make safe choices.

3. Oceans & Marine Life

- Campaigning against destructive fishing practices.
- Protecting endangered species.

4. Climate Change Awareness

- (29) _____ communities worldwide, Greenpeace also raises awareness about the dangers of climate change.

5. Ancient Forest Protection

- Defending the last remaining old-growth forests.
- Supporting indigenous communities, like the Maisin of Papua New Guinea, in their fight against destructive logging.

Why It Matters

- * Over 80% of the world's forests are already gone.
- * Oceans and wildlife are (30) _____ severe threat.
- * Pollution and climate change affect every community.

Join Us!

Together, we can defend our planet and ensure a sustainable future.

- Joining Greenpeace means actively (31) _____ to environmental protection.
- Visit: www.greenpeace.org

Question 26: A. environment urgent challenges
C. challenging urgent environment

B. urgent environmental challenges
D. urgently environment challenges

- Question 27: A. hold polluters accountable
C. take polluters responsible
Question 28: A. irreversibly
Question 29: A. Educate
Question 30: A. against
Question 31: A. contribute
- B. keep polluters accountable
D. make polluters liable
B. reversible
B. Educated
B. at
B. contributing
- C. irreversible
C. Educating
C. of
C. contributed
- D. irreversion
D. Having educated
D. under
D. to contribute

Read the following leaflet and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 32 to 37.

HOW TO BUILD A SUCCESSFUL STEM CAREER

There is no uniform way to enter a STEM career, but following these steps can help lead you along the right path

Step 1: Consider Your Interests and Goals

There are hundreds of career possibilities under the umbrella of STEM. Some students may choose engineering, while (32) _____ may be more interested in biology or technology.

Step 2: Earn a Relevant Degree

Keep in mind that most STEM careers require at least a bachelor's degree. You should also plan your studies (33) _____ industry expectations so that you are prepared for the job market.

Step 3: Gain Hands-On Experience

Internships and apprenticeships allow you to (34) _____ practical skills that cannot be fully learned in classrooms. Many engineering professions also require work under professional supervision before certification can be obtained.

Step 4: Improve Your Skill Set

Continuing education programs can (35) _____ career advancement opportunities. In fact, certificate programs and (36) _____ are highly valued, and in many companies, employees are sponsored for additional training courses.

Step 5: Stay Motivated

Pursuing a STEM career can be demanding. To succeed, you need to make a strong (37) _____ to lifelong learning and perseverance. Remember that success does not come overnight, and in many cases, you may have to learn the hard way that "Rome wasn't built in a day."

- Question 32: A. another
Question 33: A. in accordance with
Question 34: A. harness
Question 35: A. lay down
Question 36: A. diplomas
Question 37: A. commitment
- B. others
B. in alignment to
B. assimilate
B. give rise to
B. accreditations
B. adherence
- C. the other
C. in pursuit of
C. attain
C. bring about
C. fellowships
C. allegiance
- D. each
D. irrespective of
D. acquire
D. work towards
D. microcredentials
D. difference

Read the following passage about The Causes of Animal Extinction and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 38 to 42.

No animal species can survive indefinitely on Earth. There are many factors that can cause an animal or plant species to become endangered, and one big one is the destruction of their habitats. (38) _____. For example, the population of critically endangered Sumatran orangutans is now less than 10,000 on their home island of Sumatra, Indonesia, due to deforestation and farming.

(39) _____. Uncontrolled hunting of whales in the last century, for example, (40) _____. The high demand for animal parts stems from their use in certain foods or medicines or their value as decorative objects. For example, the ivory tusks of elephants are used to make jewelry, and the price is high enough that people risk being arrested and jailed to go after these animals.

Introducing a non-native species to an environment can also cause species endangerment. A native species is one that develops naturally in a particular area and has done so for a long time. A non-native species might be introduced into a new environment by humans, either intentionally or by accident.

The brown tree snake, (41)_____, has managed to kill off 10 of the 11 species of birds native to the island's forests. In Florida, large pet snakes such as the anaconda and the python have been released into the large Everglades swamp. The snakes have thrived in their new environment, and now compete with and may soon overwhelm the swamp's alligators.

Organizations such as the World Wildlife Fund and the IUCN try to raise awareness of threatened animals and plants. These organizations collaborate with government agencies to save threatened or endangered species and to make new laws that will protect them. But to really protect plant and animal species now and in the future, (42)_____.

Question 38:

- A. Deforestation and soil, air, and water pollution are usually the main culprits
- B. Seasonal migration patterns often shift due to changing climates worldwide
- C. Rapid urban development has displaced countless communities of wildlife
- D. Natural disasters such as hurricanes and earthquakes frequently alter ecosystems

Question 39:

- A. Climate variability has become an increasingly unpredictable threat
- B. Another cause of endangerment is from humans exploiting wild animals
- C. Certain species cannot adapt quickly enough to newly introduced diseases
- D. Another cause of endangerment is competition for limited food resources

Question 40:

- A. has driven commercial fisheries into near total economic collapse
- B. creating irreversible gaps in the ocean's complex food chains
- C. which weakens the reproductive cycles of whale populations
- D. resulted in many whale species becoming critically endangered

Question 41:

- A. was unknowingly brought by cargo ships stopping at Guam
- B. deliberately introduced as a method of controlling rodent numbers
- C. which was unknowingly brought by cargo ships stopping at Guam
- D. which accidentally released after being kept as an exotic household pet

Question 42:

- A. the public needs to be educated on the value of keeping these species alive
- B. governments must prioritize large-scale urban expansion over conservation
- C. wildlife tourism should replace traditional farming in most rural regions
- D. stricter penalties should target individuals engaged in small-scale hunting

PART 3. READING

Read the following passage about E-learning and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct word or phrase that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 43 to 52.

E-learning is the (43)_____ term to describe the fields of online learning, web-based training, and technology-delivered instruction, which can be a great benefit to corporate e-learning. IBM, for instance, claims that the institution of its e-training program, Basic Blue, (44)_____ purpose is to train new managers, saved the company in the range of $200 million in 1999. Cutting the travel (45)_____ required to bring employees and instructors to a central classroom account for the lion's share of the savings. With an online course, employees can learn from any Internet-connected PC, anywhere in the world. Ernst and Young reduced training costs by 35 percent while improving consistency and (46)_____.

(47)_____ generally positive economic benefits, other advantages such as convenience, standardized delivery, self-paced learning, and a variety of available content, have made e-learning a high (48)_____ for many corporations. E-learning is widely believed to offer flexible "any time, any place" learning. The claim for "any place" is valid in principle and is a great development. Many people can engage with rich learning materials that simply were not possible in a paper or broadcast (49)_____ learning era. For teaching specific information and skills, e-training holds great promise. It can be especially effective at helping employees prepare for IT certification programs. E-learning also seems to effectively address topics such as sexual (50)_____ education', safety training and management training – all areas where a clear (51)_____ of objectives can be identified. Ultimately, training experts recommend a “blended” approach that combines both online and (52) _____ training as the instruction requires. E-learning is not an end-all solution. But if it helps decrease costs and windowless classrooms filled with snoring students, it definitely has its advantages.

Read the following passage about the launch of Viet Nam Today channel and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 53 to 60.

Viet Nam is ready for its close-up. On September 7, Vietnam Today, the country’s first international English-language television channel, will officially go live — opening a fresh window for global audiences to experience the nation beyond the headlines. Promising more than just pretty pictures and travel clips, the channel aims to reshape perceptions by presenting a vivid, contemporary and objective view of modern Việt Nam — from its cultural heritage to its fast-evolving digital economy. Broadcasting 24/7, Vietnam Today will deliver content across television and digital platforms with multi-language subtitles tailored for each region it reaches. With a focus on quality and accessibility, the channel hopes to meet the growing demand for trustworthy, engaging coverage of Việt Nam’s transformation.

Launched by national broadcaster Việt Nam Television (VTV), the channel will feature a diverse lineup: politics and current affairs in Vietnam 360 and The Point, business news in Daily Biz and culture and tourism through Culture Mosaic and Amazing Vietnam. Other shows will explore innovation, digital transformation and environmental issues. “It will be a connecting platform to promote the national brand and image to the world,” Đỗ Đức Hoàng, deputy general director of VTV, said. “Through this, Vietnam Today contributes to expanding international cooperation, creating a bridge between Việt Nam and the global community and affirming the country’s position and prestige in the international arena.” The channel aims to serve a wide international audience: policymakers and researchers seeking reliable data, investors eyeing new opportunities, tourists planning their next destination and members of the Vietnamese diaspora eager to stay connected to their homeland. Vietnam Today is designed to challenge outdated stereotypes. The channel will present Việt Nam as a peaceful, forward-looking and stable nation — one that proudly preserves its traditions while embracing innovation and global integration. With content grounded in accurate information and creative communication, VTV says the new service will reflect Việt Nam’s values and its people — youthful, resilient and ready to engage with the world. Programming will be available across platforms including OTT (over-the-top) applications and DTT (digital terrestrial television) networks, with initial audiences in the Americas, Europe, Laos, Cambodia, and Myanmar. Starting in 2026, VTV plans to expand distribution through global partnerships and television service providers, aligning with Việt Nam’s foreign policy goals. Distribution will be adapted to suit regional broadcasting methods — from satellite and cable to IPTV, OTT, and programme exchange — to ensure content is easily and effectively delivered to viewers across borders. In the age of digital diplomacy, Vietnam Today marks a timely and strategic step for the country, placing Việt Nam’s story in its own voice on the global stage — a story of resilience, culture and connection.

- Question 53: Which of the following best paraphrases the underlined sentence in paragraph 1? “Promising more than just pretty pictures and travel clips, the channel aims to reshape perceptions by presenting a vivid, contemporary and objective view of modern Việt Nam”

- A. The channel will broadcast travel shows and scenic documentaries to attract tourists and foreigners
- B. The channel intends to change global views of Vietnam by offering a realistic and modern portrayal.
- C. The main goal of the channel is to highlight Vietnam’s history rather than its present-day progress.
- D. The channel promises to broadcast objective news but still relies heavily on outdated stereotypes.

Question 54: Which of the following is NOT mentioned as a purpose of Vietnam Today?

- A. To promote Vietnam’s image abroad.
- B. To provide useful data for researchers and policymakers.
- C. To replace other local Vietnamese channels.
- D. To connect Vietnam with the global community.

Question 55: The phrase “challenge outdated stereotypes” in paragraph 3 could best be replaced by _____.

- A. confront entrenched misconceptions
- B. endorse prevailing assumptions
- C. perpetuate conventional wisdom
- D. reinforce traditional preconceptions

Question 56: The word “prestige” in paragraph 2 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.

- A. eminence
- B. obscurity
- C. distinction
- D. renown

Question 57: The word “its” in paragraph 3 refers to _____.

- A. audience
- B. Vietnam Today
- C. VTV
- D. Vietnam

Question 58: Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?

- A. Vietnam Today will broadcast nationwide during its initial five-year stage.
- B. The channel will show both domestic politics and international business programs.
- C. Programming will be offered solely in English, without subtitles in other languages
- D. Distribution will exclude cooperation with international media service providers.

Question 59: In which paragraph does the writer emphasize Vietnam Today’s role in diplomacy and international strategy?

- A. Paragraph 1
- B. Paragraph 2
- C. Paragraph 3
- D. Paragraph 4

Question 60: In which paragraph does the writer describe the channel’s target audiences such as investors, tourists, and diaspora?

- A. Paragraph 1
- B. Paragraph 2
- C. Paragraph 3
- D. Paragraph 4

Read the following passage about understanding Climate change through Proxy records and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 61 to 70

One of the biggest challenges in determining whether recent climate events reflect human impact is understanding the natural variability of the climate. We know that over the course of history, the climate has undergone significant changes without human intervention. The global climate system is also incredibly complex, with many interconnected factors, which means it can fluctuate in unpredictable ways. To accurately assess whether recent climatic changes stem from natural processes or anthropogenic factors, it is essential to first delineate the extent to which the climate can naturally vary.

Unfortunately, instrumental climate records only cover about a century, which is too short to provide a reliable measure of long-term climate variability. However, when we look at longer timescales, we see clear evidence of slow shifts between different climate regimes. To go further back in time and build a clearer picture of past climate fluctuations, scientists turn to proxy records.

Proxy records are derived from substances whose physical and chemical properties change in response to prevailing climatic conditions during the time of their deposition. These substances - like ice cores, ocean sediments, and tree rings - form layers, often annually, providing a continuous record of changes over hundreds or even thousands of years. (I) By analyzing these records, scientists can infer past temperatures, rainfall patterns, and other climate-related data. (II) For example, temperature reconstructions have been made from Greenland ice cores, sediments from European lakes, and ice cores from both Peru and Antarctica. (III) While these records generally show global temperature variations, they also reveal significant regional differences, indicating that climate patterns can vary across different parts of the world. (IV)

These proxy records clearly show that the climate has experienced considerable natural variability over periods longer than a few thousand years. At the same time, the relative stability of the climate over the last 10,000 years - known as the Holocene period - stands out.

By offering a glimpse into the climate's natural variability, proxy records provide an invaluable benchmark for understanding how natural processes have historically interacted to shape the global climate. These processes include chaotic atmospheric shifts, the erratic behavior of ocean currents, and variations in land surfaces, ice, and snow cover. Additionally, the proxy data capture fluctuations resulting from volcanic and solar activity, as well as the potential contribution of human influences.

To better understand how these processes interact, scientists use computer models to simulate global climate patterns. While these models are useful, they can only capture part of the complexity of the climate system and often provide a limited view of natural variability. In fact, studies suggest that current climate models show much less variability than what is observed in proxy data, indicating that these models may not fully reflect the range of natural climate fluctuations.

Question 61: The word “delineate” in paragraph 1 is CLOSEST in meaning to _____.

- A. identify a clear line or distinction made
- B. complicate the situation for clear insight
- C. conclude with a firm resolution or decision
- D. establish clear parameters for evaluation

Question 62: All of the following statements are false EXCEPT _____.

- A. Proxy records are useful for short-term climate studies
- B. Climate models show less variability than proxy data
- C. Instrumental records span several millennia of data
- D. The climate has undergone notable changes through time

Question 63: Which of the following best summarizes paragraph 3?

- A. The recent changes in global climate are mainly caused by human activities rather than natural variability.
- B. Since climate records are limited in length, scientists rely on proxy data like ice cores and sediments to understand long-term climate changes.
- C. The complexity of the climate system makes it impossible to distinguish between natural and human-induced climate variations.
- D. Climate fluctuations are unpredictable, but modern technology has allowed scientists to reconstruct past global temperatures with complete accuracy.

Question 64: Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the text?

- A. The role of ice ages in climate shifts
- B. The impact of human activity on climate
- C. The benefits of using climate computer models
- D. The significance of volcanic eruptions on climate

Question 65: The phrase “these records” in paragraph 3 refers to _____.

- A. instrumental climate records used for studies
- B. proxy records derived from natural substances
- C. climate models that simulate weather patterns
- D. historical records kept by scientists over time

Question 66: In which position of paragraph 3 can the following sentence be added?

These records are essential for reconstructing climate history, as they encapsulate key climatic information over extensive periods.

- A. (I)
- B. (II)
- C. (III)
- D. (IV)

Question 67: The word “prevailing” in paragraph 3 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.

- A. customary
- B. orthodox
- C. dominant
- D. ephemeral

Question 68: What can be inferred about the relationship between proxy records and climate change?

- A. Proxy records are less reliable than instrumental ones
- B. Proxy records provide insights into climate variability
- C. Understanding climate change requires historical data
- D. Climate models are more accurate than proxy records

Question 69: Which of the following best paraphrases the underlined sentence in paragraph 5?

- A. Proxy records conceal important insights into how natural processes have influenced and shaped past climate conditions over time.
- B. By highlighting natural invaluable variability, proxy records become essential tools for gaining a better understanding of historical climate interactions.

- C. The insights gained from proxy records are worthless for comprehending the way natural processes have historically shaped the global climate system.
- D. Proxy records are invaluable resources that illustrate the natural variability of climate and help us understand the interactions among natural processes.

Question 70. Which of the following best summarizes the reading passage?

- A. The complexity of the climate system limits our understanding of its variability and its implications
- B. The recent changes observed in climate conditions are primarily attributed to various human activities and influences
- C. Instrumental climate records provide extensive and detailed data for the analysis of climate trends over shorter time frames
- D. Proxy records serve as crucial tools for understanding and analyzing long-term climate patterns over history
